

McColl is Slated to Go Against Terriers Today—Cold Prevented Game Tuesday

THIRTEENTH DAY OF HOME STAND

Gilbert Appreciates Chance to Get Acquainted With Players—Gray Released.

By Ed. J. Murray.

Since this is no mystery story the gentle public is going to be let in on the secret right at the start. The secret has to do with the reason that the South Bend-Terre Haute game set for yesterday was called off. Ed. Smith said it was called off because it was too cold, but Ed never said why it was too cold.

But listen and you shall hear why it was too cold. It was too cold because it happened to be the 13th day the team was at home. Of course it wasn't Friday the 13th, for if it had been Friday the 13th it would have snowed, and it didn't snow yesterday. Yesterday was one of those days when the weather man says it was unsettled, meaning the day don't know whether to rain or snow.

Ball players, for some unknown reason, don't like to play on cold days, although a cold day is one of the nicest alibis to mankind, especially ball players. It's better than too much heat, because cold will do more things to a player than heat. But even if it is a good alibi, ball players don't care about getting off and performing.

As Not That Kind.

Course you hear of ball players who would be going good at Christmastime if the league lasted that long, but Ed Smith hasn't that kind of ball players. Ed has a game that likes hot weather and he expects the boys to be able to play good ball even in Evansville this summer. These lads do fairly well in chilly weather, but even they couldn't perform on a cold day.

But trotting back to the 13th day dope, Smith had 12 days that permitted of ball playing. One of these days the two teams staged a tie contest, but the box office wasn't tied. So, since it's only the unlucky man that's lucky on the 13th—he's hit 12 days and they naturally have to lay off him one day to let him recuperate a bit—Smith about had one cold or rainy day coming.

Was Not Real Cold.

The local and Terre Haute athletes journeyed out to the park and the fans were headed in that direction when Smith and Gilbert decided that there would be no contest. It wasn't really so cold, although the scorers' teeth were playing a chattering "Home, Sweet Home." But it never is real cold until they hit up some of this synecopated rinky stuff.

It was just as well that it did turn out cold yesterday. Mgr. Gilbert recently received another carload of ball players and "Lefty" hadn't them all numbered yet. He didn't know the name of his pitcher and the umpire would have been in a fearful predicament as he would have had to speak to a ball player and ask him his name before he could make his announcement. "Lefty" as a result, spent yesterday getting acquainted with his ball players and hopes to be able to announce not only his pitcher and his catcher, but the entire lineup five minutes before the game this afternoon. This announcement though, is expected to be subject to change.

Yesterday's game will be played on June 24, when the Highlanders come back for a return series. This

N. J. SW P E S 22 BAGS—WIN 17 TO 1

Lake Forest Is Smothered by Gold and Blue in Game of Wild Base Running.

Running wild on the bases, and profiting by the ineffectiveness of the visiting pitchers and the errors of their teammates behind them, Notre Dame smothered Lake Forest college, 17 to 1, in a frigid game on Carter field yesterday afternoon.

Catcher Krueger of the visitors was either so badly affected by the cold that he couldn't hold himself down, or he was bothered by stage fright, for no less than 22 stolen bases were recorded off him, and he further contributed to his team's downfall with six passed balls and five errors.

Hits Not Needed.

Notre Dame didn't have to hit in order to win yesterday's game, although the Hoosiers did nail 11 bingles to the mast, for the visitors were heavy contributors to the local store of runs. After Pitcher Barto had been hammered from the box in three innings, a southpaw, Markley, by name, assayed the task of stopping Harper's men, but he was wild and unsteady, and Notre Dame got to him for six swats, one a home run by Tom Spalding in the sixth, by which hit the Kentuckian scored two men ahead of him. Markley handed out eight free passes and hit one man, in addition to letting loose with a wild pitch. Barto gave three walks, hit one man and made one wild pitch.

Despite the intense cold, which drove the majority of the spectators from the stands before the contest was over, both of the Notre Dame pitchers got along nicely. Capt. Sheehan worked the first six innings. For four innings he held the visitors' hitless, but in the fifth Franzen's hitless, but in the fifth Franzen's single and Barto's double, coming one shortly after the other, scored the only counter for Lake Forest. Charley's control was good; he fanned six men, and did not allow a walk. Murphy hurled the last two innings for Notre Dame. One man got on base in the seventh by means of a walk, but the visitors didn't advance past the second station.

Steel Bases Galore.

Jake Kline led in the run getting and base romping, the third baseman scoring four times and stealing as many bases. Spalding scored three runs, and Jones, Mooney and Keenan stole three bases apiece. Keenan, by the way, was the leading hitter of the day, with four swats in four trips to the plate. Spalding and Mooney ranked second with two hits apiece.

Toward the end of the game, Coach Harper took mercy on his regulars and sent in several substitutes to endure the cold. The contest was called at the end of the eighth inning.

INTERHALL MEET FOR STUDEBAKER CUP TODAY

Advance Dope Points to Struggle Between Corby and Brownson for First Honors.

Notre Dame inter-hall athletes will compete on Carter field this afternoon in the annual outdoor meet for the Studenbaker cup.

Advance dope seems to point to a struggle between Brownson and Corby for first honors, with chances favoring the main building lads because of their victory in the indoor meet. The other halls will put up a hard battle for third place.

Competition in the majority of the events should be exceptionally keen, and authorities are hoping for good weather, in order that the meet may be run off under favorable conditions.

CENTRAL SQUADS DOWN TO LIMIT

Living Up to Salary List Should Result in An Interesting Race This Season.

Kelly, a pitcher, and Hensling, an infielder, and an outfielder, are expected to join the local team tomorrow. The men come from Sioux City and have been playing good ball in the Western league.

Getting down within the salary limit is keeping about eight managers in the Central league. Monday was the day for the reduction to 13 players and several cuts were made, but many of the clubs have new men coming and other releases are in order.

The limit this year is 13 players. This includes five of the managers, but Bude Meyers of Muskegon, Ed Essick of Grand Rapids and Ed Smith of this city are not included. By special permission these three are permitted to don a uniform and get out on the grounds. Meyers is the only one who will be entitled to get in a game.

There is every indication that the eight managers in the league are determined to get below the salary limit. Grand Rapids is forced to turn McGraw, first catcher, aside. McGraw has only one man for duty behind the plate and will have to work out some arrangement to protect his club in case of injury to his backstop.

In years gone by failure to live up to the salary limit has been the worst feature about the Central league. It has resulted in financial losses and put many teams out of the running. By living up to the limit the worst any of the clubs should do is to break even as the attendance figures justify a club of 12 or 13 good men for each city.

The limit will permit of four pitchers, two catchers, four infielders and three outfielders.

GIANTS CALL OFF GAME

The exhibition game with the New York Giants, booked here for Aug. 17, has been called off by the Giants as a result of a postponed game at Chicago the other day. The Giants will play there instead of coming to this city. An effort will be made to bring another big league club here some time during the season, the White Sox preferred.

SYRACUSE WINS AGAIN

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 17.—Turner pitched good ball against Michigan Tuesday afternoon, with the exception of the eighth inning, and Syracuse won the second game of the series, 3 to 4. Andrus, the Michigan pitcher, yielded hits when they meant runs and Syracuse took advantage of the visitors' costly errors.

It now seems that the juniors are about to "top" their second championship of the year, following their capture of the basketball banner, as they have a clean record in interclass baseball with four victories and no defeats, after their victory yesterday over the seniors, in a hard struggle, by the count of 4 to 2.

The game was close at every stage. "Danny" Whitman of the seniors and "Ken" Bradley of the juniors engaged in a pitching duel, with the latter having the better of it. He was supported faithfully, while Whitman's defense wavered frequently. "Hal" Stiles for the seniors was the big noise with the stick, rapping out a double and two singles.

As "Johnny" Taylor, the seniors' young catcher, is laid up with a bad thumb, the seniors borrowed Cunningham from the sophs, who received the veteran Whitman in great style. Cohevothy of the juniors kept up his record-breaking feat and struck out at every appearance at bat.
